

ARCHÈ

think of the alveolar opening the interdental moving to midcentral moving towards a punctuation think of the voiced labiodental fricative hitting the tympanum the furies floating across your stolen waves among the sun a swarm of insectuous urinal light cackling in streams we are along with myself the blindspotted clouds depart the artifice of our lives congeals eeling the space

a telephonic downpour